THE PALACE
SIROHI
RAJASTHAN

Dated : 21st July 2025

My Dear Pratap Singhji,

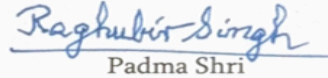

I am indeed delighted to commend Yourself, Shri Pratap Singh Chauhan for his exemplary contributions toward the advancement of sport as a vital pathway for strengthening national security, individual well-being, and sustainable development. His endeavors also reflect a commendable alignment with principles of good global governance—promoting international cooperation, inclusivity, and peace through sport.

Shri Pratap Singh, hailing from Palwal, Haryana, has demonstrated unwavering dedication in leveraging sports to further unify and strengthen our nation. When I first met him in 2015, he was passionately discussing his ideas with Jain Muni Hitruchi Maharaj Saheb. Over the past ten years, his pioneering efforts in establishing and promoting Aainball—an innovative sport aimed at youth engagement, fitness, and discipline—exemplify his steadfast commitment to nurturing a healthier, more resilient populace. From training of Agniveers and police forces to social clubs and schools, his initiatives have yielded tremendous results. Born into a family rooted in agriculture, his ancestral roots also belong to my erstwhile Kingdom of Sirohi, making his journey to the zenith of Aainball's global leadership truly remarkable.

Having received the Padma Shri for my global diplomatic contributions, I firmly believe that sports diplomacy is one of the most impactful tools to enhance a nation's soft power. Shri Singh's exemplary work embodies this vision, demonstrating how sport can serve as a bridge for strengthening India's global stature.

I wholeheartedly endorse Shri Pratap Singh and his initiatives and wish him continued success in his noble pursuits for the betterment of our nation and the world.

In Sincere Service to our Beloved Bharat,

Padma Shri

His Highness Maharajadhiraj
Maharao Raghuvver Singh of Sirohi

Summary

It gives us immense pleasure to recall that the International Aainball Federation organized a well-designed and well-developed programme on October 30–31, 2025, with a Demonstration Match of Aainball, an International Conference on Olympism, and Visits of Delegates to the scientific laboratories in committed collaboration with Rashtriya Raksha University (RRU), Gandhinagar. These laboratories are maintained and utilized by BCORE for the conduct of experimental research, testing, and measuring various significant aspects related to holistic health and the fitness and performance of sportspersons, with a view to providing scientific and research-based support during training and competitions—from grassroots level to elite performance.

Participants' active involvement in open discussion and detailed interaction, helped understand the challenges of sport and suggested sustainable solutions, their deep-rooted commitment and consistent contribution have helped make this supremely popular mega event a grand success. Their professional knowledge and technical skills will be useful in promoting a culture of excellence in scientific research, educational values of Olympic sports, good governance, global best practices, smart sports management, and creating a secure environment for athletes and officials during training and competitions.

In view of the above, we recognize the ability of our Speakers in new, emerging areas of scientific research and quality education and also their collective ability to find sustainable solutions to perpetual problems in fast-changing, intensely competitive sporting environments at all levels. It is also evident that their mature viewpoint has highlighted that research and education play a pivotal role in fostering deep dialogue among potential scholars, policy-makers, and sports scientists, thereby strengthening the foundations of Olympism, Culture, Education, and Sport.

We also convey our grateful thanks to all the delegates, the efficient staff of RRU Gandhinagar, the team of experts at BCORE, and the academic faculty of Rashtriya Raksha University, for providing research-oriented scientific support in the successful organization of the International Conference on Olympism to the complete satisfaction of all stakeholders. Hopefully, organizing such high-calibre events with a collective and optimistic approach will go a long way in promoting academic excellence, scientific research, educational values, Olympic sports, sporting diplomacy, ethical governance, and athlete well-being. This is expected to project India as a healthy, fit, performing sporting nation, capable of producing a task force of civilized and trained professionals for economic growth and national development. We shall continue to work as a team, with a family spirit, mobilizing resources through Public-Private Partnerships.
